THE 1970 "SWEDEN AT HOME" PROGRAM

- a program for international understanding and goodwill -

The origin of this program goes back to 1954 when a group of internationally-minded Swedes decided that during his stay in Sweden the average tourist did not really get to know the Swedes or see how they lived. The main reason is that when a tourist arrives in a foreign country he often does not have a personal friend or acquaintance, and therefore he does not have an opportunity to really meet the people at work or at home. His visit thus becomes rather shallow and is often limited to seeing the sights and shopping. To give more depth and meaning to the tourist's stay, the "Sweden at Home" program was launched (based on the Meet the Danes program).

The new 1970 "Sweden at Home" project can be thought of as an extension of the original program. The original program, limited to an afternoon or evening visit with a Swedish family, is still in effect. But such a brief visit is hardly enough to really get to know a Swedish family or to find out about life in Sweden - or, for that matter, for the Swedes to get to know his American counterpart or find out about life in U.S.A.! So, the original program has been extended to an overnight stay where you can spend one or two days in a Swedish family as their guest!

This extension adds both depth and meaning to the stay. It gives the parties more than an opportunity to discuss their respective countries. And it offers the host a chance to show his guest how and where he lives and works. After all, the real expert is the person who lives there. But it also takes the visitor off the well-beaten tourist path and introduces him to people and places he normally would not see. Thus a new dimension has been added to his visit to Europe.

Here is how the program works: Småland and Värmland are the two provinces that contributed more emigrants to America than any other Swedish province. To start the project, each province has offered 500 host families. An American individual or family interested in this program fills out a registration form (available from Swedish National Travel Office, 505 Fifth Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10017) which then is forwarded to Sweden where it is matched with a Swedish family of similar interests and background. This family then contacts the interested party in America and between them they work out a program and time suitable to both. By the way, the project is in effect all 1970. At the present, it is concentrated to the two provinces mentioned, but other provinces have expressed a desire to be included and in special cases a person or family could be placed in other parts of Sweden.

WELCOME is VÄLKOMMEN in Swedish and that is what 1,000 families in Sweden now are saying to the Americans!
